ROBLOX is a company characterized by its community-based culture. This is reflected in its games, which are generally hosted on the website (as opposed to the product), and as a result, are built by users for users. The developers at ROBLOX have stated that they are completely open to third party development—the only restriction on what is considered acceptable and permissible is that all products must be compatible with ROBLOX's Terms of Service. Whether ROBLOX soft products will be accepted into the Steam platform is still unconfirmed.

In 2016 Roblox sponsored an event at The Children's Museum of Pittsburgh to raise money for charity (Watsi). This was called Roblox Builders Club: Mutliplayer Tournament which raised over $6,000 for charity water.

In 2010, ROBLOX updated their entire website to match the current version of their branding. The new design was made to be sharper and cleaner than the former one, and removed many visual effects that were seen as archaic and dated. A few key features of this change include a slightly larger "R", as well as a background shape for it similar to that of a "double-r", which ended up being used for every future iteration of the logo. This design is still used on the website today, albeit with variations in how it is utilized.

On February 2nd, 2019, an announcement was made by ROBLOX as they were planning on allowing users to purchase 'Clips' which are in-game blocks and scenarios that can be used in their games.[108] These Clips would later become part of their new launch system that will be called Studio and released at a later date.
