The game includes a variety of different "power ups". The user reviews for each power up show the overall audience's rating of the power up at that point. Some power ups include the ability to turn on an area light, remove clouds from the screen, double all coin production, and create special blockades in which coins aimed directly at one end of a light stand will be destroyed before they reach it. The more powerful power ups also include "turbo bombs" which can be fired from the player's cannon.", Users have criticized Coin Master for its monotony and reliance on making users pay real money to progress in the game. A user review on iTunes complains that it is "just another collect-a-thon with a coin motif". The developer of Coin Master has countered this criticism by stating that they do not believe in "pay to win" video games and hope to provide their users with a fun and engaging experience.",

In January 2016, Moon Active launched a Kickstarter campaign to help fund the development of Coin Master 2 on mobile platforms. The developers of this version released an alpha version of Coin Master 2 for Android devices in December 2016. This version didn't reach beta quality however as it was quickly discontinued only three months after launch due to poor user responses regarding bugs and graphic issues. An update was provided in early 2017 which included a new tablet version of Coin Master 2.0 but this version also never went to beta. As of August 2018, Moon Active has removed all of its previous versions from the Google Play Store and App Store for unknown reasons.",

"This is one of my favorite games because of the different levels and how easily it takes all my free time. It would be cool if there were different games you could play with friends online and offline. Also, I would be better off if you could actually get coins without spending your real money on them through in-app purchases or by downloading another game that requires real money. It would also be cool to have a way to actually get coins and lives without having to pay for them." "I love this game because anyone can play it, anytime, anywhere. But I just don't quite understand how they are trying to make money. You have these extra lives you win from watching videos or playing other games, but they are not enough unless you spend your actual lives on them through in-app purchases or by downloading another game that requires real money. I would give this game five stars except for the fact that I feel like there's a lot of potential wasted on how they are trying to make money. Hopefully the developers will change their ways. I would love to give this game five stars because the graphics are good, and it is entertaining.""

In 2014 Moon Active launched a Kickstarter campaign asking for $8,000 to help progress development of Coin Master on PC platforms. It reached its target and the developers also received additional funding from a Jewish organization to support their work developing "Coin Master". A Minecraft version of Coin Master was also created by Mojang (Minecraft) in 2015, which is available to players free of charge via Minecraft Realms.",
