A serious game should be fun whether you spend money on it or not. The developer should not make a profit from people who don't care about winning but rather just want to play and have fun. If there is real value in the game then it can sustain itself through micro transactions that offer cosmetic enhancements only, by providing new texture patterns, color schemes, new props, etcetera.

In 2015, a study concluded that children under 15 years old had made up 38% of Roblox purchases, which was far less than the games with similar genres such as "Minecraft" or "Grand Theft Auto". However, the study also concluded that players over 15 years old had made up 56% of Roblox purchases. This is because they have more money and influence. In addition, the study reported that Roblox is being used for a variety of purposes such as learning about engineering and architecture.

On May 23, 2013, ROBLOX launched an in-game currency known as "TIX" (short for Tickets). It was worth one cent each since its release up until March 2014 when it became worth ten cents. They were planned to be used to buy virtual items for the game "Dance Off", but this never happened. In 2016, ROBLOX announced that TIX would no longer be used in the near future and that other ways of earning and spending money would be found. The currency was officially retired on October 14, 2016; while any TIX that was previously owned by players became converted into an equal amount of Tickets. ROBLOX launched an option to buy TIX with real money on January 13, 2017.

A user's membership is displayed as a number of "blocks" that they have in their account. This number can be increased at any time by purchasing a builders club membership which also unlocks other features such as custom backgrounds, avatars and other features like chat rooms and new games. The first block costs 99 cents, while additional blocks begin at $2.99 for 12 blocks. Unlike Xbox Live Gold and PSN, the number of blocks does not reset after you have purchased them, but keeps track of all the purchases you made up until you buy more blocks.

On July 26, 2018, ROBLOX warned its users about several scams on Roblox that are being advertised on YouTube. They were shown to have included links to pirated, unlicensed games, which are at risk of having their ROBLOX accounts banned due to the unauthorized distribution of their intellectual property.
