The site has been called "worthless" by users such as Brianna Wu, an independent games programmer and activist. She was also specifically referencing the site's lack of any kind of real economy.[10] There have been multiple instances where money and donations were sent to ROBLOX asking for some kind of update on a game which never came to life. She has asked for the company to be more transparent in regards to this situation and stated that she will not give them any more money until they actually deliver something.

Every year since 2011 Roblox has hosted a "Developer's Conference" at the language center of Carnegie Mellon University. In 2013 and 2015, the conference was held in Washington DC. It is usually held between late July and early August. The event includes a keynote from an important person of interest to Roblox developers (i.e., one of the founders).

The game is not very challenging. Even though there are a lot of games available on it, there isn't much in the way of difficulty. This is a big negative in my opinion - especially for older kids who love to face tough challenges such as some video games on the market now which can sometimes be really difficult and where you have to wait for many hours in order to even pass the game. This might be a problem if you are playing with smaller children - some games on roblox are known to last for days or weeks before they finish. My 6 year old absolutely loves roblox and games like this are great for that age group. If you're looking to play with kids older than that then I'd suggest looking at something else. There is some violence in the game, but nothing major (for example you can only fight by swinging a sword or shooting a gun, rather than hand to hand fighting) and it's all in the context of a game. Overall we love it and it was worth the money!

The first product launched by ROBLOX was "Builders Club" on May 21, 2006 which allowed players to create 3D environments and watch other players' creations online. This product was followed by "Dance Off" on November 29, 2006. Both of these games had been in development since the launch of the website; "Dance Off" being originally named "Crazy Dance Fight". In 2007, ROBLOX launched a new line of products called "Roblox Toys". The first and only one to be released at that time was "Helicopter", which was shipped in December 2007.

There are many ways to earn free robux on roblox. You can earn robux by roaming around the map and collecting coins or playing some of our newer games. Playing any game will grant a player with a certain amount of free robux based on their gameplay. For example, one reason is that every hour spent in airplane mode earns 500 Robux; people can also play fun games for free Robux using our keyboard (It's just as easy!).
