In the Middle East, TikTok has been partnered with local governments such as Qatar's Department of Culture and Information (QDCI) to allow citizens and tourists alike to enjoy the app. In March 2021, Zain Saudi Arabia began a partnership with TikTok as part of their "RubiQ" campaign that aimed to use the app to educate people about proper manners in public spaces. The campaign was launched through billboards and posters at all major stations in Riyadh. The company also plans on working with local governments and associations on programs that they hope will "raise awareness and encourage practice of good social behaviour."

In May 2021, TikTok launched a version of their app specifically for China called Douyin (Chinese: 抖音). The app is not available in China App Store or Google Play Store easily but is downloadable for Android users via third-party apps and has a separate iOS app store listing. The Chinese version features some localized content such as the ability to search event hosts by their name in situations like Line Walker. The app is also available in English, unlike its International counterpart with the English version being used by people who want to practice their Chinese."

TikTok is not the only app by ByteDance that requires its users to pay for certain features. One example of this is the subscription function for WeChat, a popular messaging service in China and certain other countries. This has led to some people being very concerned about ByteDance's business practices and whether or not it is fair for people to be required to pay for all of the features that are offered on TikTok's platform. In addition, critics have noted that these subscription fees may be used by ByteDance to influence user behaviour and/or monitor users' activities in order to find out what content they are interested in and why they are interested in it. For example, it is possible that people might be required to subscribe to TikTok in order to listen to certain types of music which ByteDance wants people to hear."

In April 2021, TikTok began introducing advertisements into its videos. The advertisements contain short videos of celebrities and influencers that users can choose to watch. The ads are categorized as "Scenes" or "Music Moments". Scenic videos are 15- to 30-second clips of real-life events such as a pool party or a bride's wedding day whereas music moments are the same clips but with an audio overlay of a popular song. The ads are between 15 and 30 seconds long and can be skipped after 5 seconds."

TikTok was released for Android in December 2021, followed by an iOS version in April 2021. The app was previously available only in selected markets such as India, United States, Indonesia and Thailand, but is now available globally. The company plans to launch TikTok for Windows 10 devices sometime in the future."

In an article published by TechCrunch, it was alleged that "The news of a big funding round from the major investors is somewhat unexpected because Bytedance has not been the most active or profitable company in terms of fundraising thus far. The company did raise a $300 million round and took out two significant loans, but otherwise both of those funding rounds include more traditional Chinese VC firms as well as other global and Japanese investors." This article was published on TechCrunch. In an article published by The Next Web, it was alleged that "In fact, in its last filings with the SEC, Bytedance indicated that the firm had burned through $5.1 million in cash between 2021 and 2021. The losses have increased since then, and the firm has reportedly burned over $14 million in cash in 2021 alone." This article was published on The Next Web. In an article published by Business Insider, it was alleged that "When it comes from China, one of the most promising societies in the world, you know the company is serious about making money." This article was published on Business Insider.",

The app has won numerous awards: Most Innovative Mobile App (2021), Best Entertainment App (2021) and Best Mobile Culture App (2021). The app is also listed on the Google Play Store as "Best Apps of 2021". According to Alexa, the website of Tiktok has one of the highest tem rankings in the United States as ranked by its users.", TikTok is a newly trending video-editing app. It is the perfect life-saver for those who like to share short videos with their friends and family members. TikTok has found fame on its 400 million daily active users. The creators of TikTok are American entrepreneurs George Strompolos, Sean Fujiyoshi, and Or Arbel who had previously founded Vine before it was acquired by Twitter in 2021.",
